Mr. Robertson came to Clearholm about eight years ago and settled on a farm near the town. He at once identified himself with the interests of this town and was one of the organizers of the Agricultural Union in the forming of the Turf Association in 1907 and was its first president. The breeding of harness horses was of great interest to him and in "Nis," a horse which he imported from Iowa, he was successful in winning the "Nis" stakes. The deceased was a familiar figure as behind "Admiral Togo," the horse which was such a favorite with his master, he drove into town and appeared in many racing events both here and in Calgary. The great success of his early steps taken to have suitable grounds for the holding of the annual agricultural fair and the Park Association received from him both financial assistance and an expenditure of his own in its development. The Agricultural Society and the Park District success which this organization have throughout the country is largely due to Mr. Robertson's painstaking work. He was a very public-spirited and broad-minded man and had many friends in this neighborhood. The attendance at the funeral which was held at the house on Tuesday was very large. The town was represented by the business associates of the deceased and eight auto loads of citizens, the officers, present in a body at the funeral.

The consequences:
After a long siege of intense suffering and after a plucky, up-hill fight to regain health, John Robertson, a well-known figure in the latter years of Clareholm's history, succumbed to the disease on Sunday evening about 10 p.m. He moved to Vancouver over a year ago but found the climate such as to aggravate his trouble. He returned in the early winter and seemed to be on the way to recovery when he made a visit to Kerrisdale, B.C., to spend Xmas at home. He returned here about a month ago almost at the point of death and from that time till the day of his death, the ultimate end was feared.

The late Mr. Robertson was born at Grand Cascadepia, Bonaventure County in the province of Quebec in January of the year 1859. In early manhood he moved to Otranto, in the state of Iowa and latterly spent brief periods in Oshkosh, Wisconsin and at the Pacific coast. In the state of Washington, he met Mrs. Ann Johnson, who became his wife and who predeceased him.

About two years ago, the late Mr. Robertson married Mrs. Adams, of Port Angeles, Wash., who with her eight year old son survives him. He is also survived by three brothers, Howard, of Minneapolis, and Byers and William, still in the home province and two sisters, Mrs. W. R. Gillis, of Edmonton, and Mrs. Campbell Gilker.

Mr. Robertson's colleagues of the council of the rural municipality of Argyle were present at the ceremonies and a beautiful wreath testified their respect to the memory of the deceased councillor. The members of Cairo Lodge, A.F. & A.M., also sent a wreath. Many other floral expressions of sympathy were received by the family. Rev. Wm. McNielhol, who had ministered to him in his last illness, conducted the funeral services and paid tribute to the faith in his Saviour which had been expressed by the deceased and to his resignation, in his long-continued period of physical suffering. Expressions of deepest sympathy were received by the family upon whom the cloud had descended.

The death is reported of William Robert Ward, aged about 26 years, of Vulcan, occurring during the progress of an electric storm on Friday of this week. The deceased was digging postholes on his farm east of Vulcan. But on a lightning flash was observed during the storm but after its occurrence the dead body of Mr. Ward was found besides his fence, the post near him being shattered with the force of the bolt. He was a married man of good standing in the community and the death comes as a sad blow to his young wife. No marks were observed upon the body. Insp. Tucker who was early in the scene decided an inquest unnecessary.

The public school juniors played a game of baseball with the team of the Claresholm View school on Friday last, this being the second time these teams have met on the diamond. The visitors played a better game than was played on their home grounds but Claresholm beat them by a score of 14-8. The players were as follows:

The football team was expecting to play Cayley at Cayley on the 23rd, the day of the sports at the latter town. In fact it was upon the printed program and a prize of $25 was to be given to the winning team. Since the match game here last week, the programs have been altered to read-Cayley vs. Vulcan. Perhaps the result of the game last week made the good Cayley sports take thought to that $25. So some Claresholm footballers go to-day to Cayley as per the original schedule. The other games in the league are High River at Staveley and Nanton at Macleod.

Major Outhup of Calgary, in an inspectional visit, reviewed the cadet corps at the public school on Tuesday at 4 p.m. He congratulated the cadets upon their appearance and knowledge of the drill manual. He congratulated the corps upon the able instructor, Capt. Westmore, who had trained them. He expected to see every member of the corps at the cadet camp in July. It is expected that over 25 will attend.

The baseball team were to go to Stately to-day, if the weather permits, to play an exhibition game with the Stately boys. Stately will come here for a game of baseball on our day of sport, May 25th. A game has also been arranged for Victoria Day between Clear Lake and Star Line. These old rivals will put up a classy scrap on the diamond and will add materially to the enjoyment of the 25th of May program.

Mrs. Getts and Mrs. C. W. Egner were in town on Monday on business.

The whereabouts of Geo. Coleman is the absorbing topic of the hour. His numerous checks floating around have suddenly ceased to be negotiable. Coleman was last seen when with his wife, they took the train at Parkland for Calgary. On May 3 he wrote to the manager of his farm from there, enclosing a check which afterwards proved to be worthless, and was last seen on May 6. Coleman was evidently a second Wallingford, and did a flourishing business buying and selling grain, etc. Sometime in the latter part of April he sold to James Wallace six prime hogs at $100 apiece, and failed to deliver them on May 6. He also sold to Price & Walls, of Chesham, 70 simlas—hogs to be delivered on May 7. He received from Wallace a $350 deposit and from Price & Walls $400. Neither man saw the hogs as they were not delivered, but Geo. Coleman failed to make delivery, investigation was started, which resulted in a warrant being issued on a charge of fraud. It is rumored that those were only small hogs, and that he sold others. Large accounts were heard of, and are, are looming up aggregating many thousands of dollars and it is believed by many that his spoil will amount to over $50,000. No definite action has yet been taken by the law, but it is believed that they are financially well fixed—The Macleod Spectator

In an interesting article by John B. Told in The Scientific American Supplement, the writer argues that in certain cases, school-rooms for instance it may be found desirable to substitute cotton cloth for glass as window material. He argues that in cold weather glass chills a room without admitting a particle of air to it, and this fact will be admitted by anyone who has been compelled to sit near a large window upon a cold day. Cotton will admit the air freely, but the room is not chilled to the same extent as where glass is used, while the air is unquestionably purer. To many this will be rather a startling statement, but Mr. Told asserts that an experiment will convince the most sceptical. Granted this fact, his further conyear in a modern sixteen-room school is referred to as establishing this contention. The lower windows sashes were forty inches by thirty-six inches, and these were left open during school hours, wooden screens covered with unbleached cotton cloth being inserted in the open windows. The janitor declares that it was just as easy to warm the room when the windows were open as it was when they were closed, while the absence of draughts and the presence of abundant fresh air reduced catarrhal conditions amongst the scholars to a minimum. The experiment is well worth a trial anywhere in Canada.—The Christian Guardian

Parkville, B. C., May 18th—A fatal accident occurred near French Creek, Saturday, when John Lindsay, a teamster, aged 30, fell from the wagon on which he was riding and was instantly killed. Lindsay's wife and small child had started from their home in Alberta to join Lindsay, and instead of a happy reunion of the family, they will instead be called upon to attend a funeral.

The oil excitement has overflowed from Calgary and the waves hold sway here. The news of the "gusher" stirred up all the latent sporting, speculative blood and up from the old stocking is being resorted money for stock that one would not dream existed. R. K. Peck was selling Herron-Elder oil stock on Saturday and Monday and easily disposed of all his allotment. Several have gone from here representing little pots of coin of the realm thrown into the hat for investment. The few who are not on the way to become oil barons are sent to "conventures" by their fellows.

The fever has found expression in Masled and Granum by the organizing of oil companies and it is safe to say that if that big hole in the ground thirty miles from Calgary does not go "dry" that a considerable number of "test" wells will be put down all along the Foothills from the international boundary to the north pole.

Already rumors are in the air of such an exploring company in this town. It would not be a foolish move if enough capital could be secured by small donations so that no single individual would stand to lose heavily in case of failure. Much land has been filed upon in the Mud Lake district, south-west of Granum and in the Pincher Creek and Lundbreck districts. Geologist cling to the idea that the upheaval of the Rocky Mountains left a veritable lake of oil which may extend from 50 to 200 miles from the base of the range. In many cases the discovery of the extent of the area will only be arrived at by exploitation. A few thousand dollars could be secured from many small sums risked for the testing of this district, it would not be an unwise venture.

For the last two years The News-Telegram has consistently persisted that perambulatory schools of agriculture will effect greater advantages to the sons and daughters of farmers than the confining of agricultural education to a centrally situated college, whether affiliated or not with a university, and this contention has been amply justified by the success that has attended the three schools of agriculture which have been established this year in this province at Clareholm, Olde and Vermilion. It is more convenient for these classes of students to have the college taken to them than for them to be forced to go to the college.

This year these schools have been attended by a total of 268 students, Mr. Tory, the president of the University of Alberta, did not exaggerate when he ventured the opinion that of this aggregate not more than one-third would have been able to attend a college situated far away from their residences.

Short courses in agriculture are preferable to long ones in many respects, when they are thoroughly practical, the three or four years' courses being mostly necessary for those who intend to become experts in certain definite branches of agriculture, and teachers, lecturers and professors.

The first year's operations have fully justified the inauguration of the new movement and should lead to the covering of the province, if not with schools, at any rate with classes, which may be held in already existing available rooms at suitable centers.

Messrs Munro, Moffatt, Baxter and Leonce Clark motored to the 44 on Sunday.

Temporary repairs have been made to the engine at the power house and the citizens are enjoying light again. An attempt is being made to secure a new drive from the manufacturer and upon its arrival the shaft will be sent to Calgary to have the die set in position. In the meantime, water will be pumped from the wells on the hill and, if the citizens are sparing in its use, the supply may go around. No pressing circumstances. Those who in the lower levels should remember the hill-dwellers who are the first to have their supply exhausted and every drop wasted, by those in the lower sections is taken from those in the upper strata. Don't be selfish.

A quiet wedding took place at Wesley Church, Lethbridge, on Wednesday of last week, when Miss Reid Lewis, of Greenwood, Weymouth and latterly of Connaught, Mont. became the bride of Enril Nelson, of the latter place, the Rev. C. H. Cobblecluck performing the ceremony in the presence of a few of the intimate friends of the young couple. The groom was a farmer in the vicinity of Claresholm about five years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson came to Claresholm to spend short time as guests at the home of J. F. Allard, who but recently returned from Connaught, Mont., to make his home here. Mr. Allard was a farmer in this neighborhood a few years ago.

Rev. H. M. Henderson held his first service at Stately on Sunday last. As there has come to Stately recently several families of his church, the decision was made to give these an opportunity of attending an English church service in their own town. Through the kindness of five members of Mr. Henderson's Clareholm congregation, who are possessors of cars, the pastor will be able to keep his regular appointment at Stately in the afternoon of Sunday. Last Sunday a Sunday School was organized and a Women's Auxiliary will be started in a short time. A choir has been organized and the musical part of the service last Sunday was in their hands.

The reports of the results in the First Year Arts examination at the University of Alberta were announced yesterday. So far the ones of interest to the readers of The Advertiser, the Charesdulu representative in this class, Willard McKinney, made good in a class of 75. His standing was as follows: Algebra, Physics, over 85%; Greek, Latin Authors, English, Latin Prose, Geometry, over 65%; Latin Poetry, over 50%. Willard was first in his class in Greek, third in Algebra and Latin Authors, fifth in Physics, sixth in English, seventh in Latin Poetry and last in Latin Prose. The only subject from which no returns have been given is Trigonometry. Willard is to be congratulated upon the success of his first university year.

The program for the race at Meadow Creek Victoria Day celebration is arranged.

Walter Giblett, who's leading a bronco from a rig, was pulled out upon his shoulder, breaking the bone badly. He went to Calgary on Tuesday night to the hospital.

John Wesley Drellinger, whose death occurred on Monday of last week and whose funeral was held on Wednesday last, was born at Payson City, Utah Co., Utah, in 1859. When but an infant, his parents removed to Wheatlands, Cal., where Mr. Drellinger spent his youth and part of his manhood years. Returning to Payson, he married Sarah D. Pickering, who survives him. In 1901, the family moved to Canada, locating at Stirling, one year later coming to Clarendon, where the family have since resided. The health of Mr. Drellinger up to six months ago had been excellent but he had been laid up with illness for a month preceding his demise. He appeared to be recovering and had begun to get about again.

He died at about a week's age, and was buried in the Lutheran cemetery. Dr. Drellinger had been in town in the morning and had just returned when the seizure came and although medical aid was hastily summoned, his death from valvular heart trouble came before the physician could reach his side. Mr. Drellinger was conscious almost to the last.

The funeral was held on Wednesday last week he service taking place at the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints at 2 p.m. The attendance at the funeral was the largest the respect in which the deceased was held in the community.

Bi-Shop Whitehead conducted the service under the direction of Thos. Duce, a member of the Alberta Stake presidency. J. M. Workman, Geo. W. Miller and

W. R. Funk spoke eulogistically of the deceased. A choir of twelve sang hymns. Rev. J. H. Workman, reader of suitable selections, among these being a favorite of Mr. Drollinger, a duett, "What Is Right." From far west of Stately and miles east of Claresholm, a large family had come and Claresholm himself was very well represented. Among the floral offerings were a handsome wreath from Anglie Municipality and flowers from the staff of the Claresholm school, with which school the late Mr. Drollinger was very much in sympathy. Internment took place, after the service at the church, in the Claresholm cemetery. The grave was lined with brick laid in cement and the grave was arched over with the same. Pres. Doe conducted the ceremony at the grave, dedicating the nation.

The late Mr. Drollinger had been connected with church work, more or less actively all his life. He had been a bishop for five years, until his health failed him. He was chairman of the Trent Creek S. D., for years and at the time of his death was woad inspector of the Rural Municipality of Angley. He is survived by his wife and six children, three sons, Wesley, William and Francis Earl, and three daughters, Mrs. H. R. Smith, Cora and Alberta. His mother is also living at Wheatlands, Cal.; four sisters, named, are in California, one at Wheatlands, in Payson, Utah, and Samuel, in Georgia, is a doctor, married him. The bereaved one has the sympathy of the neighborhood.

The report was received by the mounted Police Tuesday morning of the death of a Mr. Ward, east of Vulcan, from a stroke of lightning. There was but one flash noticed and that one caused the death of this farmer.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The council purposes in the near future to pass a by-law making it compulsory for the citizens to place a sanitary garbage can at the rear of their lots and to deposit all garbage in these cans and to keep it covered. Further, no manure or refuse will be permitted in the lanes. The council are to be congratulated upon this move. It only remains for the townspeople to enter into the plan enthusiastically and obey the by-law.—Stavely Advertiser.

Reading notices announcing the holding of any entertainment, or public gathering on a certain day is charged not for general charitable purpose, but which is intended to increase the financial standing of any organization which is of a semi-private nature, such as a church, lodge etc., societies will be inserted as news matter upon payment of five cents a line for first insertion and five cents a line for subsequent insertions. Legal advertising is 12c a line for first insertion and 8c per line for subsequent repetitions of the same. Remember every inch of this paper is of enormous value, costs us over 15c to print.

What sounded like a good suggestion was made by a local barstooler this week when he asked why the formation of an auto club would not be a good move. There are a large number of the citizens who are auto owners and the formation of a club would be a splendid thing. Trips during the summer evenings, in a body, to outside points, a little supper, a drive home in the summer night, would be very enjoyable functions. But the editor hasn't a car. What's the use.

The oil discovery is a great thing for this province. Geological experts have said repeatedly that mineral deposits of great wealth underlie Alberta. Now the proof is here. The great cry of the past has been for capital to develop our resources. Now capital will be attracted from every land. The publicity feature cannot be overestimated. Alberta is now on the map of the world.

While the council are handicapped with broken-down machinery at the power-house and the available water supply is limited on the hill it seems not only carelessly selfish but criminally selfish for some people to use the precious water so capriciously watering lawns and gardens.

What hasten years wrought in the cost of living? Figures compiled by "The Canadian Countryman" show the price of butcher cattle at $4.00 in 1904 and $8.20 per cent in 1914, hogs then $6.15 now $9.65 sheep then $4.25 now $7.25, lambs then $6.00 now $9.65.

Prof. Elliott, of the Olds School of Agriculture, is being "haunted over the coals" for daring to say that "the wheat farmers of the West at present are not paying expenses." This is not a reflection on this province for the professor was merely making emphasis how very paying is the "mixed-farming" system as compared with wheat-mining.

Who says that the West is not progressive? Several of the oil companies doing business in Calgary have opened offices especially for women investors, the office staff being women throughout.

Nanton has protested the league football game with Stavely, which was claimed by the latter by a one goal score. Nanton loses its claims upon the alleged inefficiency of the referee, Rev. Kennedy, of Stavely.

The report of the meeting of the council in last week's Advertiser was in error in stating that Judge McNeill had set a date for the continuing of the law enforcement returns as his letter spoke of the difficulty of assigning a date.

Rev. Geo. N. Hosking and R. J. Johnston, of Parkland, and C. J. Steen, of Sun Prairie, were delegates to the annual meeting of the High River district of the Methodist Church, which met at Okotoks on Monday and Tuesday last.

With Messrs. Beatty, Carbine, Hardwick and Guy as bondsmen, Neville and Huston, of Stavely, who were held on the charge of cattle stealing, were admitted to bail and returned to their homes. The case will come up for hearing shortly.

The baseball executive met on Wednesday afternoon and talked over business generally. It was decided to join the southern ball league and an endeavor is being made to have a game with Claresholm on Saturday. The grounds will be put in shape next week.

Dave Bourzay drove through from Cranbrook last week, doing the trip in four days. He reports business in Cranbrook very slack and has been so most of the winter. He says Stavely looks much brighter and busier. He thinks he will move the family back to Stavely.

Rev. J. M. Kellock, representing the Alberta Ladies' College of Red Deer, was in town on Thursday last renewing old acquaintances and incidentally making new friends for the College. While in town he was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Fawcett at the Methodist parsonage.

The Stavely Advertiser wants correspondents. If you are not in a position to represent your community as our correspondent, write us and suggest some one whom we can interest in this matter. Your district needs the correspondent; so do we. Please us or write us right away.

Correspondence is invited through these columns. Sign a non-deplume, if you wish, for publication but your name must be attached for the editor's protection. An editor was threatened with jail the other day unless he divulge the name of a correspondent. He went to jail. The correspondent's identity was not made known.

A communication from Ottawa makes it necessary for us to change the date line of this paper to read "Claresholm" instead of Stavely. This will make no change in the heading nor in that of the separate pages. In order to take advantage of the low rate of postage which alone makes it possible to publish a weekly paper in the West at $1.50 per year, we are making the change demanded.—This will not alter the distinctive fact that the paper is a Stavely paper, and as such reflects credit upon the town and gives it the publicity which the town requires for growth and stability.

Miss Jessie Parr entertained her friends at a "Five Hundred" party on Thursday last. A supper was served at 7 p.m., and the guests were engaged in the games till 11 p.m. Mrs. P. Bruhn and F. S. Dittus won the prizes, the former receiving a handsome vase and the gentleman a box of cigars. Covers were laid at the refreshment supper for thirty-six guests.

A meeting for the final arrangements for the league of baseball teams along the C. & E. will be held at Gratum tomorrow (Thursday). Every fly swatted now means millions fewer to await during the summer.

Claresholm Locals

Win. Moffatt and Leonce Clark attended two evening performances at the Sherman-Grand at Calgary last week of the Stratford-on-Avon Players. On Monday night they heard "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and on Tuesday, "Richard the Second." In the afternoon they heard the Pallards in "The Mikado."

The celebration of the "Syttende Mai" by the Scandinavian people of this district on Saturday was a great success. The program was most interesting and the attendance very good. The electric light being out of commission made the lighting of the hall a problem and also interfered with a portion of the program, an illustrated address on Norway by A. Cornthwaite.

Gratum so-called High School team and the Claresholm High School baseball team met on the local diamond on Monday night. The score, 13-1, in favor of the local team does not indicate a proportionate superiority. The Gratum boys had hard luck, having so many men almost home. On the other hand, was the Gratum team really a school boy's team?

The Advertiser bulletined the first news to reach Claresholm of the "gushing" of the Discovery well at the oil fields last Friday at noon. The report was verified by phone and D. B. Vanhorn, R. E. Moffatt, J. A. Mitchell and O. L. Reinecke left in the afternoon by motor for the scene of the strike. They later went on to Calgary and returned in the evening. The suspicious bulging of their pockets may have been oil stock.

NECESSITY NOT VANITY

In the old days, when a person had a photo taken, they were considered vain, but in these modern times, when our friends and relatives move to new towns, we find it is a photo to be of real value, not only to preserve to distant friends the homeliness of our children, but in keeping a family record of the changes that take place in each of us years.
If we only knew that one of our loving children was to be suddenly taken away from us we would wish to have the nearest photographer and have the photo taken. Every family should be prepared for this and should have their children photographed, either separately or in a family group.

Stavelly Heads The League

Victory again perched on Stavelly's banners when they met the Macleod football team which had taken Clareholm into camp to the tune of 7 goals to 2 one week ago. On Wednesday on the local field in the second round of the South-Western Football League, Stavelly's stalwart ran up a score of 5 to Macleod's 1. From the first whistle to the last the game was a real exhibition of football and the supporters of the local team were delighted to see that their home team was getting into its stride. A strong rushing wind prevailed during three quarters of the time. The first goal was a mishap, the ball galling and being carried by the wind through the posts before the goal keeper could recover. The score came after 7 minutes play. Eight minutes later, Robson fooled the Macleod goal-guardian for goal number two. For ten minutes the fortunes of war hovered but Collier got anxious to see something doing and poked the pigskin in for number three. Before Macleod could recover, Robson jangled of the centre's last success, decided to repeat his former achievement and in two minutes of play scored number four. After half-time Macleod, with the wind in their favor, bucked up and in two minutes from the whistle scored their only tally of the game. Stavelly found that the wind which had been their friend in the first half was now their opponents, but nothing daunted they strove to score until after 25 minutes grinding of foot goal number five was scored by Collier after evading the field. Goalman Dennison for Stavelly was the hero of the second half, surviving several hot bombardments with but one solitary skip. He had received twice and when the ball was finally shoved through the local's posts, Dennison had been knocked down in the squeeze. Stavelly went simply wild over this decisive victory. There were 60 paid admission but this will be over 100 for the next game. The town that would refuse support to such a splendid team would be a base ingrate. The line-up was as follows:

Stavelly	Position	Macleod
Dennison	Goal	Healy
Willis	Backs	Nesbit
Moir		Parnell
Chard	Halves	Law
Greig		Billy
Preston		Taylor
Orr	Forwards	Watson
Robson		Robertson
Collier		Plant
Linton		Dunn
Stranghan		Thompson

Clareholm Celebration

Boost for the Victoria Day sports. Tag Day for the band is a wise move. Every citizen can help proportionately.

Write and invite your friends to dinner with you on the 25th, and take them to enjoy the races and games on Victoria Day.

A tug-of-war will be a big feature of Clareholm's May 24th celebration. Country heavy-weights vs. town ought to provide good fun.

The proceeds of Victoria Day go to the Park Association and help the agricultural fair. Think of this when you are figuring your much change.

The Farmers' Co-Operative Elevator Co., through their representative here, have offered as a prize a barrel of flour to be given to the man with the largest family at the sports on Victoria Day.

Among the big events on Victoria Day will be a mile race, open. Mountain Creek long-distance runners are preparing and there are some entries from adjoining towns which will likely be made. There is a real local mile race which will put up a stiff argument. These are expected to go into training at once.

Mother's Day is Honored

Mother's Day was fittingly celebrated on Sunday last when a union service was held in the evening in the Opera House. Rev. John Kennedy was the chairman and the following program was given:

Hymn—"O'ward, Christian Soldiers."
Lord's Prayer
Solo—"The Gift," Miss Hazel Strang, Clareholm.
Hymn—"All the Way My Saviour Leads Me."
Solo—"The Better Land," Miss Edith Knight, Clareholm.
Bible Reading.
Solo—"Home Sweet Home," Charles Brodie.
Hymn—"Yield Not to Temptation!"
Address—Rev. J. M. Fawcett.
Duet—"Tell Mother I'll Be There," Misses Strang and Knight, Clareholm.
Hymn—"Aid with Me."

Mr. Fawcett took for his text, II Chron. 22:2, "His mother was his counsellor." The main thought of his address was, that the best honor we can pay to mother is to be worthy of her highest ambition and ideal. He assailed the double standard of morals and the apparent tendency to degenerate from the ideals of the last generation.

Mr. B. G. Davidson and Mrs. F. S. Dittie were the accompanists and a portion of the orchestra were in attendance. Those who were in charge are very grateful to all who so readily assisted in the service. Special thanks are due to Miss Strang and Miss Strang of Clareholm, for their valuable assistance, their singing being very much appreciated by all.—The Stavelly Advertiser.
